

KATE'S BIG ED-VENTURE

KATE HAS JUST LEARNED THE RULE THAT ADDING -ED TO VERBS TURNS THEM INTO PAST ACTIONS BUT SOMETIMES SHE GETS CARRIED AWAY!

Can you correct her mistakes?

Kate waked very early, she getted up quietly, eated her breakfast, goed out, runned down the road and guess what she seed?

A big black horse which she catched hold of. She springed up on its back, holded on tight and rided away at high speed. It taked her a long way from home before she falled off. She finded her way back and telled her parents. She sayed she was sorry but still she was sended to bed and falled fast asleep.

Objective

To recognise how the singular past tense works by adding '-ed'.

Teacher's notes

The story in this activity is filled with misspellings and it challenges children to find the correct irregular past tense verb.
